GREETINGS FROM WHODUNIT?

by Henrietta Wilde

"Gaylene & Henrietta's Chicago Adventures" is the feature wall at Whodunit?. Check it out in the store or on our website. We had fun meeting all the mystery authors at Bouchercon 2005 and getting our pictures taken with them. The scheduled panel discussions, author interviews, awards ceremonies, mini receptions, autographing sessions and hobnobbing all added to the excitement of the event. Chicago is a beautiful city with lots of great architecture and there are glimpses of our 'Chicago of the North'.

We're looking forward to all of you helping us celebrate our 12th Anniversary on November 19th and 20th. It's hard to believe we've been here this long but it's thanks to all our loyal customers. Join us for hot apple cider and our famous mystery cookies.

There are lots of exciting new books coming out this fall and we have a lot of ideas to make your gift-giving easy and to fluff out your wish-lists. Ian Rankin fans will love Rebus's

KEN BRUEN with Gaylene and Henrietta at Bouchercon

Scotland: A Personal Journey (39.95), part autobiography, part Rebus biography and a black and white view of contemporary Scotland. Agatha Christie lovers need a copy of Agatha Christie A Reader's Companion, with its collection of plot summaries, original book covers and descriptions, period detail, and commentary on Christie's parallel life and career ($39.95). An unauthorized biography of John Mortimer, The Devil's Advocate ($39.95) will appeal to Rumpole followers. For the budding art museum curators in the family, Art Fraud Detective, The Great Art Scandal and Art Auction Mystery ($26.95 each) would be the perfect pick. Another great choice is the latest in A Series of Unfortunate Events, The Penultimate Peril ($16.99), for those young people who will not be put off by Lemony Snicket's ominous disclaimer that the book should avoided at all cost. Thank goodness P.D. James is still entertaining us with a new Dalgleish mystery, The Lighthouse ($35.95). Michael Connelly has a new character in The Lincoln Lawyer ($36.95) and of course, there's the new Minette Walters book, The Devil's Feather ($34.95), with a fine balance of darkness and redemption. William Deverell resurrects Arthur Beauchamp, now comfortably retired and living the simple life on Garibaldi Island. Circumstances conspire to get him back into law to defend one of his favourite criminals in April Fool ($36.99). We also have two Winnipeg mysteries this year. C.C. Benison's Death in Cold Type ($18.95), takes a stroll down Crescentwood lanes and gives us a dose of newsroom scandals. Michael Van Rooy writes a North End crime caper in An Ordinary Decent Criminal ($11.99). An ex-con tries to turn his life around, but there are elements determined to undermine the process. Monty Haaviko has the street smarts to fight back, but can he do it without losing his wife, his baby son and his freedom in the process?

When in doubt, a Whodunit? Gift Certificate fills the bill every time.

BOOK REVIEWS

The Magdalen Martyrs

by Ken Bruen

Reviewed by Gaylene Chesnut

Henrietta and I met Ken at Bouchercon in Chicago. He's an Irish rogue with a friendly smile and a kind heart, and writes like a poet on the dark side. This book will send shivers down the spine of anyone who has gone to a girl's boarding school run by nuns (myself included). The story begins with protagonist Jack Taylor having a debt called by a hood named Bill Cassell. Bill wants Jack to find an old lady who once worked at the Magdalen Laundry, which was run by nuns and women who supposedly helped unwed mothers and wayward girls. The story weaves a tale from the scenes of the laundry, Jack's personal battle with alcohol, drugs and the price that is paid for revenge. The characters in this story are dark, but the writing and flow of book keeps you reading until the end. Ken Bruen is a wonderful writer and I would recommend this book.

All Shook Up by Mike Harrison
Reviewed by Gaylene Chesnut

I always enjoy finding a new Canadian mystery author. Mike Harrison's new mystery is set in Calgary. His protagonist is Eddie Dancer, an ex-cop turned private investigator. He is much better as a private eye, simply because he bends the rules.

The story revolves around city hookers, bikers and attacks against women that leave them in a vegetative state. The characters are colorful and Eddie is likable. His buddy Danny Many Guns adds to the story as the plot takes many twists and turns. I hope that this book is the first in a series. I look forward to the next book starring these characters.

Quarrel with the Foe
by Mel Bradshaw
Reviewed by Barbara Coombs

Anyone need a suggestion for a good Canadian mystery for those out-of-Canada relatives or friends? Take a look at Quarrel with the Foe. Mel Bradshaw's mystery is set in Prohibition Toronto where a prominent and respected businessman, Digby Watt, has been found murdered. Several possible motives come to light during the course of the investigation, one of which is Watt's shady WWI manufacturing business. As luck would have it, the lead detective assigned to this case, decorated WWI veteran Paul Shenstone, also witnessed the inferior quality of Watt's WWI weapons.

Bradshaw does a very good job of developing his characters and setting his scenes while being concise in his descriptions. Detective Paul Shenstone moves between interviews with wealthy family members, to those with former comrades in battle, and back to the pressures at City Hall. The Prohibition-era setting makes the mystery more complicated. I enjoyed reading this book and recommend it to those who like historical mysteries.

Shadows by Edna Buchanan
Reviewed by Cathy Bowen

Shadows is the second in the new series by Edna Buchanan and features the same great Miami location. In this series, the protagonist is not a reporter, but a group of detectives in the Cold Case Squad. Lt. K. C. Riley and her Squad have been approached by a resourceful preservationist who claims a certain pioneer house cannot be destroyed because a body is buried on the property. Although skeptical, the squad investigates and finds more than one body and more than one unsolved mystery. As always, Buchanan's characters are interesting, amusing, and people we want to read more about in future books. I think this new series by Edna Buchanan is very good, and I recommend Shadows.

Carved in Bone by Jefferson Bass (coming Feb. 2006)
Reviewed by Cathy Bowen

Jefferson Bass is actually two people – Dr Bill Bass and Jon Jefferson. Dr. Bass is a forensic anthropologist who founded the Body Farm, which is featured in many of this genre of mystery. Jefferson is a journalist and science writer, and together these two men have written a mystery featuring the Body Farm and those who work with it. I highly recommend this hardcover for anyone who enjoys Patricia Cornwell and Kathy Reichs. In this case, the protagonist, Dr. Bill Brockton, is called to a murder scene in Tennessee, because of a suspicious corpse. What he discovers only deepens the mystery, which is told in the first person. Of course Dr. Brockton has had personal tragedies, and this mystery is an excellent mixture of really graphic forensic details and an interesting personal narrative. The blurb on the back cover states "the first gripping tale in a brand-new series." I hope this is true, because I think Jefferson Bass will soon be as popular here as Patricia Cornwell.
